Hello,

Welcome to our nation's capital! It is an honor to welcome you to Washington D.C., and a privilege to represent you and our fellow citizens of Arizona's 3rd District.

As the capital city of the greatest nation on Earth, Washington is a nerve center for more than just politics: history, art, culture, and global culture also call the city home. People from all around the country--and the world--travel here to Washington to walk on the National Mall, explore our museums, attend shows, visit galleries, and tour hallmarks of American democracy.

I hope you take the opportunity to see what Washington has to offer in your time here. That is why my office has put together this handbook: to introduce you to the city and recommend the key points of interest and experiences that my staff and I enjoy most.

When you walk in Washington, you walk through the corridors of history. I hope you enjoy your stay, and thank you for allowing my office to be a part of your experience.

Sincerely,

Raúl M. Grijalva
Member of Congress
